midsumma.96 festival

The midsumma.96 festival is a major arts event in Melbourne’s cultural calendar, home for a rich variety of artistic and community events. It offers 23 days of opportunity for gay and lesbian performers - of every kind - to show off their talent.

Edward II
The hit of the 1996 Melbourne Fringe Festival Edward II scandalised 16th Century England when he raised his love for another man. This affair erupted into a civil war which divided a country and killed its King. Christopher Marlowe’s homoerotic classic - exploring the oppression of gay love - comes alive in a provocative and innovative stage production.

midsumma proudly applauds the talent and passion that exist within our communities.

The Sun Also Sizzles
It’s cool. It’s intriguing. It’s adventurous and passionate. It’s Sun Valley - a place where men love men, women love women, and soap opera collides with drag. With a new episode each week, we’ll keep you coming back. So move over Melrose Place - Sun Valley is now the hottest address in town.

midsumma's mission

mission statement
midsumma is committed to presenting an annual gay and lesbian cultural festival in Melbourne.

midsumma promotes a safe and healthy environment in which the lesbian and gay community can celebrate its pride and diversity.

midsumma supports and encourages all community activities it perceives as having cultural relevance within the lesbian and gay community.

It's your festival
help make it happen

midsumma is an incorporated non-profit organisation whose sole purpose is to host the midsumma festival. It provides an umbrella for artists, performers and community groups who wish to organise various events of relevance and appeal to the gay and lesbian community.

Hundreds of volunteers ensure midsumma happens each year. A board of management meets year round to plan overall direction of the midsumma festival. Made up of 12 elected members, and two co-opted members, elections are held each year. The midsumma AGM will be held in May 1996.

Each board member is involved in one or more of three working groups: promotion (marketing, public relations, sponsorship and fundraising); festival (visual and performing arts, community forums and activities); and production (management of the midsumma street party, midsumma carnival and RIDE96.)

Thanks
Special thanks to the EQUILIBRIUM team for their fundraising efforts in support of the midsumma96 festival. Thanks also to the City of Port Philip, Bells Brother/Sister, Joy and Bent TV for their support.

The midsumma96 festival poster - also used on the cover of this guide - was designed by Catherine Gwawton, winner of the midsumma96 design competition.
